With India's emergence as a major garment manufacturing hub in Asia, the demand for contract manufacturing is picking up pace with both domestic as well as international brands and fashion retailers seeking out well-established players in this segment.

ASF, Apparel Sourcing Fair, has been specifically curated to bring together large and medium contract garment manufacturers and facilitate interaction with local and international apparel brands, large format retail chains, buying houses and buying agents, sourcing professionals, export houses, multi-brand outlets, e-commerce retailers, department stores, specialty stores, distributors, and wholesalers.

ASF is positioned as a high-value Vendor Sourcing Platform. Therefore, if you have the requisite manufacturing infrastructure and wherewithal to be a supply chain partner to international and domestic players in the fashion business, then ASF is the ideal event where you should be present.
